Estimates Crop of 45,000,000 Pounds; Quality Better Than Last Year.

While reports from the great majority of south Georgia tobacco markets on Tuesday, the opening day, indicated a large crop of higher quality than last year, with prices offered that brought gratification and optimism to the growers, two markets, at Ahira and Adel, protested that prices offered were too low. Meetings held at both these places resulted in telegrams of protest being sent to President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. At Ahira, after a mass meeting had dispatched the telegrams to Washington, the farmers decided to withhold any further offerings from the market until they hear from the national capital. The telegram of protest from Adel was received by G. C. Adams, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, at which the office of Governor Talmadge forwarded telegrams to the President and Secretary of Agriculture. Commissioner Adams said he had been informed that low grades of tobacco at Adel were selling from three to five cents, five grades at fourteen and some extra fancy grades at eighteen. He said the growers had reason to expect that the latter grades would bring more than thirty cents a pound. Prices generally were considerably higher than last year, when the average was 10.41 cents a pound and some fine quality tobacco was reported sold as high as 30 cents, with many points reporting quality prices of 25 and 30 cents a pound. The average price, including poor quality lugs, seems to have been between 13 and 15 cents a pound.

Price Doubled at Douglas. The commissioner later said that he had been informed that low grade tobacco sold at Douglas Tuesday at prices one hundred per cent more than last year, with the average for lugs or low grade reported at around twelve cents a pound and prices ranging from six to twenty-five cents for largely low grade tobacco. "The growers there were reported highly pleased with the market," Commissioner Adams said. Prices of eleven to sixteen cents for lugs from several of the markets were reported by J. F. Greer, director of the state bureau of markets. He said that offerings generally on the opening day are from the tobacco leaves which grow near the ground and produce the lower grade, or prime, comes from the leaves nearer the middle of the stalk and he said would

Road Funds Diversion Proposed By Talmadge

Governor Tells Douglas Throng He Expects $2,000,000 Road Savings He Would Use To Pay Pensioners and Teachers.

DOUGLAS, Ga., Aug. 1.—Asserting that he was answering the appeals of hundreds of school teachers and Confederate pensioners, Governor Eugene Talmadge today came out for diversion of highway funds, but only after they had accrued from savings he hopes to effect in the department and not by diversion of anticipated revenues.
Addressing a crowd of 10,000 south Georgian supporters here for the opening of the 1933 tobacco market, the chief executive pointed out that it is not within his power to divert these funds made in plant that by February 1, next year, he hopes to have saved $2,000,000 in the highway department and will ask the legislature to divert this sum to the Confederate pensioners and the school teachers.
"Nearly every day I get letters from all over the state from these pensioners or school teachers," the governor said. "They have been two years and more without their money and in many instances the funeral bills of poor old Confederate veterans have gone unpaid for more than two years. Everyone knows that I cannot divert money from the highway department but I will try to save $2,000,000 by February 1, and when the legislature comes back in January of 1935, I will ask that they divert this money to pay these worthy people."

TROOPS 'PROTECT' LONG GRAND JURY TO BE AIRED TODAY

Anti-Long Faction Scores With Indictment of 15 Election Officials.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—(UP) National guardsmen were utilized early tonight during a political upheaval that resulted from an attempt to investigate last November's general election, in which the forces of Senator Huey P. Long carried off all the honors.
A detachment of eight troops, under arms, accompanied the Orleans parish grand jury to the criminal courts building for a secret "rump meeting." The men were from O battery, 141st field artillery, and were commanded by Captain Edward T. Benzech.
The grand jurors remained closeted an hour and a half. They called for copies of the indictment issued today against 15 election commissioners. The copies were sent into the room and after a time the jurors marched away from the building. They were followed by a crowd of Long supporters who would convene again at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. That is the hour set for the start of Judge O'Donnell's election investigation.

Long and Anti-Long. An anti-Long district judge and district attorney are lined up against the forces of Governor Talmadge. The judge, George Wallace, assistant district attorney and one of Senator Long's advisors, accompanied the grand jury to its meeting.
Strategic maneuvers, so familiar during the reign of the Kingfish, were developing on all sides.
A citizens' committee, headed by Governor Talmadge, met today. Long leader, was assembled in the Four 'Reds' Beheaded Under German Law

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Four communists were beheaded with a battle-axe here today, in accordance with death sentences pronounced June 2. The beheadings followed their conviction on charges of killing a Nazi storm trooper at Altona during "bloody Sunday" riots on July 17, 1932.

Ransomed Millionaire Tells Of Treatment by Kidnapers

By CHARLES F. URSCHEL
(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
OKTOMA CITY, Aug. 1.—If my story is a little bit sketchy, blame it on the fact that I have slept scarcely at all for the last nine days. First of all, you simply can't appreciate how glad I am just to be alive and well. It has been a harrowing experience, probably even more terrible than the kidnapping itself. I am close associates than for myself, because I never felt that my abductors would harm me. I would not go through it again for anything in the world.
It seems like a year since we were playing bridge on our sun porch a week ago last Saturday night, when two men entered with machine guns and demanded that my friend, Walter Jarrett, and I, leave with them. Their faces were in the shadow at the time. All I could see was the menacing machine guns. I felt that they had

ROOSEVELT SEEKS FEDERAL MEANS TO END KIDNAPING

President Looks to New Industrial Codes To Aid in Relentless War on Industrial Racketeering.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 1.—(AP) President Roosevelt mapped a war against kidnapping and racketeering today with his intimate adviser, Raymond Moley, an authority on crime, and scanned every available federal statute to aid an immediate campaign. He is looking confidently to the new industrial code, with a determination to enforce their provisions to stamp out the rule of force among small groups seeking illegitimate agreements.
To beat down kidnapping he is counting on a super police force, already in organization and at work, to co-operate with state authorities.
The income tax statute and postal regulations also are to be brought into play by the federal government.
Professor Moley, who has made special studies of crime and has written books on the subject, said Mr. Roosevelt did not reveal details of the plans, but was in mind.

County Won't Quit. The visit of Moley, who is assistant secretary of state, revived a fresh outburst of speculation about the reported difference between him and Secretary Hull over state department policies and the possible resignation of the former.
Asked specifically if he were going to continue in the state department, Moley quickly replied, "I certainly am. Do you know any good reason why I should not?"
Newspapermen referred to published reports that Secretary Hull was returning from London with fire in his eyes about his relations with Moley and might ask for the latter's resignation. Moley replied: "Those are assumptions and I don't reply to assumptions."
Nevertheless, significance was attached to the sudden Moley visit here on the eve of the arrival of Secretary Hull, who is expected to work here for a full discussion of his work at London upon his return to New York tomorrow or Thursday.
Moley was not only emphatic that he was going to remain as assistant secretary but he declared he had been given no special assignment by the president on kidnapping.

Count on Agents. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to count considerably on the enlarged bureau of investigation in the department of justice under J. Edgar Hoover to wage a reinforced war on kidnapping and racketeering. He is looking for every available avenue of attack until he can get additional legislation to strengthen the federal power at sea.

Virginia Nomination Conceded to Peery

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 1.—(AP)—State Senator W. Worth Smith conceded the democratic nomination for governor to George C. Peery at 11 o'clock tonight. At that hour, Peery's vote was almost four times that of his closest opponent and was almost twice the combined vote polled by Smith and Joseph T. Deal, with only 485 out of 1685 precincts missing.
With 1308 of the state's 1685 precincts reported, the vote stood: Deal, 23,996; Peery, 83,542; Smith, 22,806.
Peery is hailed by party chieftains as the victor in the fight for the nomination. For his feat in breaking the republican phalanx in 1922 and ending the supremacy of C. Bascom Simpson, the district's political boss, he repeated the accomplishment in 1924 and again in 1926, becoming the only democrat ever to be elected from the district three times in succession.
Mr. Peery was appointed to the state corporate commission by Harry Flood Byrd when Louis S. Epps, resigned to become a justice of the supreme court of appeals.

Today Is Last of Jinky Contest; Many Prizes Will Be Awarded

By THE JINKY EDITOR.
All good things must come to an end and so it is with the Jinky contest. As much as it is regretted, today is the last milestone on the Jinky road. All Jinkys must be entered by 11 o'clock tonight. They will be judged for either weekly or sweepstakes prizes, as well as to receive credit for entries in the contest for the grand prize. The contest will be closed by 11 o'clock tonight. The winners will be announced Sunday, August 5, at 11 o'clock. Thousands have eagerly awaited the awarding of the many wonderful and worthwhile sweepstakes prizes. None more than the children whose entries for the Jinky boys' and girls' bicycle, the pup tent and army cot, which are to be given for the best Jinkys cut by boys and girls. Scout and Camp Fire Girls, have been myriad.
Since today will be my last opportunity of meeting many of you, I want to express the pleasure I have received from working with you in

NRA Eagle Spreads Wings Over City As Thousands of Firms Back Drive

The wings of the blue eagle of the NRA spread over Atlanta Tuesday and by the time firms were closing for the day, more than 1,000 window display signs proclaimed the fact that thousands of workers will find awaiting them shorter hours and larger pay envelopes.
A spirit of cheer and co-operation reminiscent of war days pervaded the city. Employers rushing to obtain the eagle signs choked the lobbies of the federal building early Tuesday morning and swamped the

WORKS EXPENSES HIT ONE BILLION

Ickes Forges Ahead on Program for Federal Improvements.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(UP) In less than a month at the head of the biggest peacetime spending bill in history, Secretary of Interior Ickes as public works administrator has passed the $1,000,000,000 mark in his campaign to put men back to work.

Working with almost unprecedented speed and in defiance of the red tape which traditionally slows down federal machinery, Ickes has made arrangements to spend almost one-third of the $3,300,000,000 authorized for public works in the national industrial recovery act last June. He began his job as public works administrator July 8.

Since that time he has approved public works to a total sum equal to an assistant. You may facilitate matters greatly if you will have your receipts carefully counted and bound by either clip or rubber band. Have all your Jinkys numbered correctly with the number on your identification card. This will not only help us, but will assure you of receiving credit for your entries. Please do not clip your receipts to your Jinkys as there is much danger of tearing Jinkys while removing clips.
Again I wish to mention that all Jinkys entered in the contest, except those entered for special sweepstakes prizes, will be judged for the sweepstakes prizes. Therefore, it is not too late to register now if you have not already done it.
Hoping to meet all of you today at Jinky headquarters, I remain, Your faithful Jinky Editor.

Boy, Practicing Rope Tricks, Hanged in Basement of Home

Sam Stainton, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Stainton, of 986 Blue Ridge avenue, lost his life Tuesday morning, supposedly as a result of losing his balance while practicing with a rope in the basement of his home.
Shortly after noon his body was found hanging by a rope from a water pipe by his seven-year-old brother, Lafayette, who noticed a light in the basement and went to investigate. Mr. Stainton was not at home. The child summoned Mrs. Clyde Ezell, of 908 Blue Ridge, and Miss Marjorie Culbertson, of 907 Blue Ridge, and they, with the assistance of a man called in from the street, lowered the body.
A Grady hospital ambulance and a fire department rescue crew were called to the residence. Artificial respiration was employed on the body for more than an hour, but without re-

Fighting Occurs at Four Mines in Pennsylvania. Strikers Reach 30,000.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—One striker was killed and more than a score wounded today as deputy sheriffs with guns and tear gas turned back pickets during a day of turmoil in the state's troubled soft coal fields, where a strike spread to more than 30,000 miners.
Fighting broke out at four mines and the casualties included nine men wounded by pistol and shotgun fire, five seized by tear gas and others injured by stones.
Louis Podorsky, 28, died of injuries received in a clash at the Frick Coke No. 3 mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Company.
The disorders flared after national guardsmen were withdrawn from patrol duty by their commander, Major Kenneth W. Mowery, who was represented as feeling the strike area is too vast to be patrolled by his force of 325 men.
The guardsmen encamped on a hill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—With the full approval of President Roosevelt and the treasury, Chairman Jones, of the Reconstruction Corporation, tonight asked the nation's banks to aid in the "back-to-work" movement by expanding credit.
At the same time Jones asserted in an address that repayments of $170,000,000 of corporation loans was evidence that the country was "inherently sound and recovery well under way." He said the big lending agency stood ready to inflate the working capital of the banks by purchasing preferred stock in sound ones.
At the conclusion of his speech Jones read a letter from President Roosevelt endorsing what he said "about the need for credit and about co-operation in the general scheme of 'everybody back to work.'"

Roosevelt Approves Wool Code, While General Drives for Acceptable Rules for Oil Industry.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—More than 900 of the nation's business leaders were called to service tonight by President Roosevelt to push forward the campaign for national recovery.

Signaling the formal opening of the five month's emergency re-employment drive, nine members each of 48 state committees and seven members each of 26 district boards were asked to undertake the work of getting "every patriotic American citizen, employer and consumer to co-operate in this program."

The Georgia board is composed of: J. H. Freeman, Newman; Milton C. Fleetwood, Cartersville; Victor Allen, Buford; W. D. Anderson, Macon; S. J. Faircloth, Quitman; J. L. Budeau, Savannah; Fred Hollis, Pelham; W. C. Jeffries, Columbus; Steve Nance, Atlanta.
The district board is composed of: Frank H. Neely, Atlanta; Lester Ham, Lenoir; James D. Robinson, Atlanta; John O. Braselton, Braselton; George L. Googe, Savannah; Dr. H. W. Shaw, Augusta.

Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, made the announcement: "I want to make it clear from all over the land that the NRA's blue eagle insignia was appearing today in thousands of store windows beckoning shoppers to come there."

These reports brought word, too, of a continuing rush of employers to present their agreement to the hour-shortening, wage-lifting movement and to receive the credentials that marked them as co-operators with the administration.

Here in particular, meanwhile, General Johnson and his aides labored into the night on separate codes for industries that will supplant the pre-identical agreements.

Johnson announced that a hearing on a code of competition for the coal industry would begin August 14 and on that for automobiles about the same time.

He said in his press conference that if any reports of violations of codes already adopted by employers were authenticated to him he would take very prompt action to the maximum of the law if necessary. He was referring particularly to complaints that labor provisions had been violated by some textile mills.

Johnson acted for President Roosevelt in calling upon the 614 persons to co-operate. Already, over 13,000 civic organizations have enlisted in the campaign that is being waged to make the NRA insignia a necessary trademark on all merchandise.

tain that money paid the growers is for land plowed under. Chester C. Davis, director of production for the agricultural adjustment administration, announced the formation of regional organizations to make the inspections.

For this purpose the cotton states are divided into six districts, each to be in charge of a member of the consulting cotton committee. The actual field work will be done by approximately 200 Smith-Hughes vocational educational instructors in the south who will ascertain whether the grower's contract has been fulfilled.

Members of the consulting committee for cotton and the states to which they have been assigned are:

C. A. Allison and George Bishop, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico; C. G. Smith, Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee; G. H. Alford, Mississippi and Louisiana; R. F. Kroom, Alabama, Georgia and Florida, and E. B. Jackson, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

U. B. Blacklock, seventh member of the committee, will handle special cases and assist in formulating inspection plans.

In announcing that additional inspection had been decided upon, Davis said: "This cotton adjustment program calls for the expenditure of more than $100,000,000. Sound policy dictates that the government do everything necessary to insure that the funds expended bring the results desired."

Davis acted on recommendations of the consulting committee which aided in the acreage adjustment campaign which resulted in the reduction of this year's crop—on farm administration adjustment estimates—by about 3,500,000 bales.

SCHOOL PAY CUT RESTORED BY KEY

Mayor Signs $85,000 Paper; Asks Georgia Materials in Public Buildings

Mayor James L. Key Tuesday took two important steps in Atlanta's part in the drive for national recovery and planned a third one for today.

He approved a council resolution setting up $85,000 from school contingent funds for restoration of the latest five per cent cut inflicted on employees of the school system, thus putting school attaches on a parity with other employees. He previously had approved the addition of $121,000 to non-school pay rolls for the same purpose. The two resolutions add $206,000 to pay rolls for the remainder of the year.

His second step Tuesday was to insist on utilization of Georgia material wherever possible on public buildings to be constructed from funds for which federal aid will be sought.

He pointed specifically to plans for the High Museum of Art in which it is proposed that Indiana limestone be used.

J. J. Haverly, president of the High Museum, said Tuesday night that he also would insist on use of Georgia marble or Stone Mountain granite for the museum.

Today the mayor will file application for federal aid for about $20,000,000 worth of improvements with the state committee, which will open headquarters in the state capitol.

Long before the governor was due to speak the city park where the meeting was held was packed and jammed and it took the chief executive almost 15 minutes to reach the speakers' stand once he arrived on the scene in company with Mrs. Talmadge and Chairman Hugh Howell, state democratic executive committee.

Time and again the governor was hailed in his remarks by the cheering which came only from the crowd assembled on the ground but from scores perched in trees, on top of buildings and at other points of vantage.

Continuing his report on the activities of the members of the last senate, the governor today highly praised the work of Senator Andrew J. Tuten, of Alma, who was one of his strongest supporters and who occupied a place on the speakers' stand and made a few remarks here today.

Market Opens Strong.

The chief executive was introduced by Judge Mark D. Dickerson, of the Waycross circuit, as the greatest Georgia man Georgia has ever produced. Others who spoke briefly included Speaker E. D. Rivers, of the house of representatives; Chairman Howell and Mayor Lonnie Pope, of Douglas, and W. B. Wilson, president of the Douglas Chamber of Commerce, who acted as master of ceremonies and was in charge of the day's celebration.

It was one of the greatest days in the history of Coffee county and Douglas as thousands came not only for the speaker, but for the opening of the tobacco market.

Prices here ranged from eight to 25 cents a pound, averaging about 15 cents, which is considerably higher than the price of last year.

The city's five great warehouses were taxed to capacity long before the time for the opening.

"South Georgia looks to be in for one of its greatest years," Mayor Pope said. Tobacco is better than usual and is going to bring a much higher price. The good times already are reflected in the optimism of the people. I see nothing for us to do but go forward."

Roads Must Cut Rates

WAYCROSS, Ga., Aug. 1.—(AP)—If railroads want to continue to operate, Governor Talmadge told an audience here today, they must cut rates.

"I want the railroads to get me straight," he said.

He described what he called a "ridiculous" rate situation under which he said Georgia watermelon farmers were forced to send their products to Florida and then ship them to eastern markets because of "excessive" rates in Georgia and lower rates from Florida despite the longer haul.

The governor said the public service commission which he recently ousted from office was responsible for high levels of utility rates generally in the state and added:

"Before I appointed the new commission, I saw to it that the new members resolved to bring these rates down, and if they don't do it I'll fire them and get some that will."

The governor frankly pointed a portion of his remarks to the next election campaign and asked for a harmonious legislature to support his program. Referring to the senate majority which blocked his automobile tag bill and opposed others in his measures at the last session, the governor said:

"If those ducks go to getting their heads above water and running again, I'm going to tell you their names. I want you to keep them at home."

Governor Talmadge covered the same range of subjects a short time before in an address at Douglas. He was introduced here by Joe D. Mitchell, Jr., Waycross attorney. Other speakers included Ed Rivers and Hugh Howell, chairman of the democratic state committee. Mrs. Talmadge was presented and was given an ovation.

The governor and Mrs. Talmadge were guests of honor at a dinner tendered by civic clubs tonight.

overlooking Brownsville, in readiness for emergencies and riots.

Peace Overtures Fail.

Peace overtures by Governor Pinchot failed today as representatives of the Frick Company, in whose mines the strike started in Fayette county, declined to attend a conference with miners' representatives in the state capital.

The miners are demanding recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

With the national guardsmen largely on the sidelines, the first clash occurred early in the day at the Colonial No. 3 mine. Several shots were fired through a highway picket line backed by 1,300 men and women. Podorski—the first fatality of the strike—was wounded along with Ben Brown, 45.

Later, two strikers were burned by tear gas, sprayed upon them by four men as they advanced with 200 pickets toward the same mine.

Six Men Shot.

The most serious disturbance occurred at the Star Junction mine, where six men were shot in a brush with deputy sheriffs. Pickets said the trouble started after they stopped several men going to work in the pits. Bullets sprayed nearby houses. Many of the pickets were made ill by tear gas.

Near the Buffington mine, several shots were fired and tear gas bombs thrown from automobiles which pickets sought to stop. Pickets said the cars, 27 in number, were carrying workers to the mine. Two men were injured by stones, but none was hit by the bullets.

In the west central bituminous fields of Cambria and Indiana counties, 9,000 men of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company the Buffalo and Susquehanna Coal Company and other operators struck in a dispute over employment of a check weighman. Six thousand employed by mines of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association were affected. The association said recognition of the United Mine Workers union was demanded, and denounced the strike movement which they said was called "in the face of wage increases."

TALMADGE PLANS FUND DIVERSION

the department for 12 years will be placed on the tax rate in the various counties, the state rate being limited and the county rates unlimited. The lack of a county rate limit allows a county to increase its tax rate, while the assessments are lowered, the county raising additional revenue without the state getting any benefit, Harrison said.

Auditor Wisdom's report shows that the special fund revenue, allocated to certain state agencies, was only $8,501,171.97 for the first seven months of this year, as against $12,020,430.19 for the same period of last year. Motor vehicle receipts for the period were $867,426.73, as against $1,480,864.51 for the 1932 period, Governor Talmadge having cut motor license fees to a flat $3 rate.

With Georgia's general state funds nearly $2,000,000 under the 1932 and the first seven months of the year, and the tax digests from various counties showing decreases in valuations, possibilities of a further cut in state appropriations were being discussed Tuesday at the capitol.

General funds collections for the year of 1933 through July amounted to $4,240,810.16, as against $6,032,450.28 for the same period of 1932 and $6,784,532.52 for the first seven months of 1931, according to a report by State Auditor Tom Wisdom made to Governor Talmadge.

General appropriations for 1933 were $10,000,000, and Governor Talmadge has already ordered a cut of 20 to 25 per cent because of declining revenues. Tax officials said that good tobacco and cotton crops, allowing payments on back taxes due the state, would help to avert further reductions in appropriations. General fund revenue this year so far averages little more than $600,000, or $7,200,000 for the year, as against appropriations of $8,250,000, the approximate total after the cut.

Tuesday was the deadline for the filing of county tax digests with the comptroller general's office, but some extensions were granted. Those already in indicate decreases in valuations, on top of the cut in the state tax rate from 5 to 4 mills.

Slash Seen as First 7
Months Show Drop.

With Georgia's general state funds nearly $2,000,000 under the 1932 and the first seven months of the year, and the tax digests from various counties showing decreases in valuations, possibilities of a further cut in state appropriations were being discussed Tuesday at the capitol.

General funds collections for the year of 1933 through July amounted to $4,240,810.16, as against $6,032,450.28 for the same period of 1932 and $6,784,532.52 for the first seven months of 1931, according to a report by State Auditor Tom Wisdom made to Governor Talmadge.

General appropriations for 1933 were $10,000,000, and Governor Talmadge has already ordered a cut of 20 to 25 per cent because of declining revenues. Tax officials said that good tobacco and cotton crops, allowing payments on back taxes due the state, would help to avert further reductions in appropriations. General fund revenue this year so far averages little more than $600,000, or $7,200,000 for the year, as against appropriations of $8,250,000, the approximate total after the cut.

Tuesday was the deadline for the filing of county tax digests with the comptroller general's office, but some extensions were granted. Those already in indicate decreases in valuations, on top of the cut in the state tax rate from 5 to 4 mills.

In his annual report to the governor, Comptroller General William B. Harrison recommended that some limit be placed on the tax rate in the various counties, the state rate being limited and the county rates unlimited. The lack of a county rate limit allows a county to increase its tax rate, while the assessments are lowered, the county raising additional revenue without the state getting any benefit, Harrison said.

Auditor Wisdom's report shows that the special fund revenue, allocated to certain state agencies, was only $8,501,171.97 for the first seven months of this year, as against $12,020,430.19 for the same period of last year. Motor vehicle receipts for the period were $867,426.73, as against $1,480,864.51 for the 1932 period, Governor Talmadge having cut motor license fees to a flat $3 rate.

CUBAN 'REDS' PROTEST
'YANKEE IMPERIALISM'

CAMAGUEY, Cuba, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Five hundred communist demonstrators carrying banners reading, "Down With Yankee Imperialism! We Do Not Want Mediation!" were dissolved by the police today.

Several of the demonstrators were slightly injured. In the disorders windows of a cigar and cigaret company warehouse were broken.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—(UP)—Declaring himself ready to "throw out" the administration's plan for agricultural betterment if it is unfair to independent milk dealers, Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today delayed until August 7 his decision on legality of the broad recovery law.

The jurist summarily refused to grant an injunction sought to prevent inauguration of the new milk price and production adjustment act in the Chicago area.

"I am not going to rule on the constitutionality of this order and its unreasonableness and unfairness without an adequate hearing," Wilkerson declared.

Relief Rolls Slashed As NRA Provides Jobs

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The administration's recovery drives are taking unemployed off the relief rolls of Mississippi so rapidly that four more counties today discontinued relief work, bringing the total to seven. Director George B. Power, of the state board of public welfare, announced.

Director Power said that more counties may stop relief work this month, and that all applications from counties for funds are for less cash than they have been receiving.

Counties which went off the rolls today were Marion, Lowndes, Choctaw and Chickasaw. Forrest, Jones and Montgomery have been off since July 1.

overlooking Brownsville, in readiness for emergencies and riots.

Peace Overtures Fail.

Peace overtures by Governor Pinchot failed today as representatives of the Frick Company, in whose mines the strike started in Fayette county, declined to attend a conference with miners' representatives in the state capital.

The miners are demanding recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

With the national guardsmen largely on the sidelines, the first clash occurred early in the day at the Colonial No. 3 mine. Several shots were fired through a highway picket line backed by 1,300 men and women. Podorski—the first fatality of the strike—was wounded along with Ben Brown, 45.

Later, two strikers were burned by tear gas, sprayed upon them by four men as they advanced with 200 pickets toward the same mine.

Six Men Shot.

The most serious disturbance occurred at the Star Junction mine, where six men were shot in a brush with deputy sheriffs. Pickets said the trouble started after they stopped several men going to work in the pits. Bullets sprayed nearby houses. Many of the pickets were made ill by tear gas.

Near the Buffington mine, several shots were fired and tear gas bombs thrown from automobiles which pickets sought to stop. Pickets said the cars, 27 in number, were carrying workers to the mine. Two men were injured by stones, but none was hit by the bullets.

In the west central bituminous fields of Cambria and Indiana counties, 9,000 men of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company the Buffalo and Susquehanna Coal Company and other operators struck in a dispute over employment of a check weighman. Six thousand employed by mines of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Operators' Association were affected. The association said recognition of the United Mine Workers union was demanded, and denounced the strike movement which they said was called "in the face of wage increases."

HOWELL ADVISES LOWER RAIL RATES

Atlanta Editor Tells Washington Conference Rails Have Been Asleep.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—Reduction of freight and passenger rates, liquidation of long-standing indebtedness from earnings rather than refunding with more bond issues, and elimination of wasteful duplicating services were urged upon the nation's railroads today by C. C. Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution.

Mr. Howell, a member of the national transportation committee of the 1932, headed by the late President Coolidge, told the conference on socioeconomic problems of George Washington University that the railroads "have been asleep at the switch" in allowing new competition to develop without doing anything to meet it.

Signs increase daily, however, he said, that the carriers are coming around to view the situation in a new light.

"Business is hard enough in all lines," he said, "but it is worse with the railroads because of unfair and unregulated competition."

"The railroads of this country today are a necessity. We cannot do without them. Without them the school systems of many states would suffer and the public today as never before is beginning to realize that something must be done to relieve the situation."

"But first the railroads must do their part. If they expect the public to join them in their appeal for relief, they must meet it halfway, and signs increase daily that they are coming to that viewpoint."

Already Enacted. Declaring most of the transportation committee's recommendations have been enacted into law already, Howell emphasized rate reductions to meet bus and other competition were essential.

"The western railroads are all reducing rates," he said. "All must meet the competitive rates of buses and trucks, or they will lose the business."

He said the railroads "generally have not liquidated their indebtedness as required by good business administration."

"Instead," he added, "many of them have paid stock and pyramided dividends and refunded bonds without any attempt at amortization. That is bad business."

Millions Wasted. The Georgia editor declared hundreds of millions of dollars were being wasted in investments in duplicated terminals, when one would be better answer the purpose of the railroads and the public.

He recommended that regulatory control be extended to the whole national transportation system.

Howell said new forms of transportation "now threaten the very existence of the railroads."

"Receiverships," he added, "have already been granted to some of the biggest systems in the country. More than half of the railroad mileage of my own state is today in the hands of receivers. The same is true the country over."

The speaker went on to say that the basic feature of the transportation committee's report was that "all forms of transportation should be treated alike, without discriminating favor for any."

"We approach the subject with the feeling of the farmer whose hen hatched a duck with a brood of chicks," he said. "At feeding time the little shovel-nosed duck would scoop up the grain by mouthfuls as the chicks with their sharp bills would nip it one grain at a time."

Take Your Chance. "The farmer watched the operation in disgust as the shovel-nose repeatedly closed the duck. Finally he grabbed it and with his pocket knife, sharpened its bill until it was just like that of the little chicks—then he turned it loose again said, 'Now, damn you, take your chance with the balance of 'em.'"

"In that way," he said, "the transportation problem can be solved. Put all forms on the same basis, and let everyone take its chance with the balance, all subject to the same regulation and each bearing its just part of the tax burden."

Howell said railroad development in America had been the pattern for that of the world, but that today "England and Germany are both ahead of us in the matter of efficiency of service rendered."

"In England," he said, "there is a regular schedule of trains from London to Glasgow at 76 miles an hour, and in order to meet the competition of aircraft and buses the English railroads are operating at 100 miles an hour."

"Germany is operating light-built streamlined trains with a Diesel engine for each of one of the coaches. The train carries 105 passengers and travels at nearly 100 miles an hour. It is regaining the business lost to the bus and the air, and this is coming in this country. American railroads are already ordering similar equipment."

Duties of Boards For NRA Defined

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—The duties of state and district boards of prominent citizens named today by President Roosevelt to aid the national recovery drive were defined in the bulletin creating them as follows:

"There is hereby created one district recovery board of seven members for each district of the department of commerce to be appointed by the president. The board will consist of one person prominent in each manufacturing, retail trade, wholesale banking, farming, labor and social service who is willing to volunteer his services without compensation."

The local district manager of the department of commerce will serve as secretary of the board. The board will consider, advise, and report to N. R. A. on the progress of the execution of the N. R. A. and will pass upon such matters as shall be referred to it for action by N. R. A."

The work of the state board which will also serve without compensation and choose its own chairman and secretary was defined as follows:

"The membership will be truly representative of commercial, industrial, labor and civic interests of each state. The state board will advise and report upon the execution of N. R. A. in their states and receive and act upon all matters referred to the N. R. A. or by their district boards. Each governor will be notified of the appointment of the state board and will meet at the call of the governor. At the first meeting it will organize and decide upon and promulgate its own rules and procedure."

Disinfectant Men Meet. Meetings held Tuesday included the Retail Hardware Association, which adopted a code under the new program, the disinfectant manufacturers, who formed a local group, and the Fulton county board of education, which adopted a resolution endorsing the NRA.

The warehousemen of Atlanta will meet at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Chamber of Commerce building. It was announced Tuesday that the entire membership of 18 firms in the Atlanta Association of Electrical Engineers had signed the voluntary agreement of the NRA.

Another development of Tuesday was the adoption by the retail clothing stores of Atlanta of a code under the new program. The change became effective Tuesday.

Regulations affecting the delivery of packages were passed, to become effective Tuesday also.

In line with regulations of department stores, a charge of 10 cents will be made for delivering purchases more a year in Atlanta and $200,000 more a year in other sections of Georgia and South Carolina.

Piggly Wiggly announced full cooperation effective Tuesday and officials said pay rolls would increase $52,000 a year and would result in the addition of new employees.

The Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, which operates the NRA plan and while figures were not given out, the firm's pay roll in Atlanta will be increased by many thousands of dollars.

There were hundreds of smaller concerns which raised wages and adopted shorter hours. Grocery stores were operating on a shorter day with hours of business restricted from 7:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m.

Early Opener Arrested. One retail food dealer, Mrs. L. L. Lazzar, of 422 Decatur street, was arrested and fined $100 for opening her store a few minutes earlier than the law required. Her fine was suspended when she pleaded ignorance of the details of the law.

A case for staying open later than the legal hour was made Tuesday night, according to police. Simon Fittelman, of 432 1st street, grocery was arrested and will face trial in recorder's court at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Tuesday morning the lobby of the postoffice building was a busy scene. Late in arriving, the posters displaying the NRA eagle were not distributed until the crowd had been there for some time.

A. W. Lyerly, operator of the Ansley garage, was the first businessman in Atlanta to receive the red, white and blue emblem. Meanwhile, scores of other businessmen were making ready to place the NRA plan into action as soon as the emblem was received. Meetings of various trade groups continued Tuesday and Tuesday night.

Executive Committee Meets. The executive committee of the special general committee formed to push the campaign met with Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the drive, presiding. Discussions of the provisions of the agreement were held.

A telegram was dispatched to Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace to speak in Atlanta before a mass meeting of citizens. Plans for the meeting will remain incomplete until a reply from Secretary Wallace is received.

During the committee meeting, Mrs. Max E. Land was named chairman and Mrs. Oscar Palmour, co-chairman of the women's division of the drive. Louis Gordon was named chairman of the publicity committee. Chairman Maddox said it is up to all businessmen to adopt the president's emergency agreement pending adoption of a trade code.

It also was brought out that the operators of small business places could join the NRA if they care to, simply by agreeing to comply with the intent and purposes of the move.

FLORIDA PAPER JOINS N.R.A. DRIVE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 1. (AP)—The Capital City Publishing Company, which publishes the Tallahassee Democrat and operates a commercial printing business here, today announced adoption of the blanket national industrial recovery board until a special code is worked out for newspapers and printing houses.

The blanket code will apply to all departments of the newspaper and commercial printing plant. It was made effective today.

The code provides for the payment of $2 and under, and no C.O.D. orders of more than $2 will be sent out only upon deposit of at least 20 per cent of the purchase price by the customer.

The Garage Owners Association, composed of storage garages and parking lot owners, meeting at the Ansley hotel and the Independent Garage Owners Association, meeting at Johnnie Aikens' garage, at 84 Houston street, both appointed committees to draw up a code which will be adopted at later meetings. The Independent Garage Owners Association as a body already has signed the blanket code. The Garage Operators' Association expects to adopt its code by Thursday.

Chapter 775 of the Colored Association of Master Barbers of America adopted a code which will be put into temporary effect their code pending final hearing upon it. It was estimated that the code will require the employment of 1,000,000 men.

A separate code to cover 5 and 10-cent stores was laid before the association calling for the closing of the stores and lower wages than are provided in the other retail codes, but there was no indication that an exception for these stores would be made effective pending hearings.

Referring to retailers not now included in the code, the president of the dry goods, department store, food, clothing, shoe and furniture dealers, one official said "they must all come under the 40-hour limit except food dealers."

Includes Drug Stores. "That includes drug stores," he said, adding that pharmacists would be included under the professional category and that the food and the business might also be dealt with differently if a satisfactory plan could be worked out.

Spokesmen for the laundry industry, employing more than 200,000 workers, also sought to submit and have their own code, but they were engaged in a series of conferences over concessions asked. They contended the industry was not in a position to take the additional financial burden involved in the president's agreement.

At Hyde Park, President Roosevelt proclaimed effective the wool textile code upon which the industry held last week and which is expected to re-employ 25,000 workers.

Johnson said the capital set tomorrow for a final effort to bring the industry under a stabilizing agreement. With spokesmen of the industry ready to attack and defend the code written by the administration, there were indications that the first controversy would be over the failure of the code to provide federal price controls. Dealers were ready to oppose the provision for governmental regulation of production.

To Set Date. Johnson was expected to set a date soon for hearings on the automobile and coal codes while one of his deputies, K. M. Simpson began conferences intended to bring an agreement between the steel industry's trade agreement.

The hearings on the steel code were finished in a few hours yesterday and the final report with equal speed. It was believed in informed quarters that this would include a limitation upon the number of hours to be worked each week instead of the flexible 40-hour week to be averaged over a six months period. Secretary Frances Perkins has recommended this change.

With the formal opening of the president's re-employment drive, the publicity section of the administration was preparing for a movement to help lead consumers toward stores bearing the NRA insignia.

Supported by 13,000 organizations already, the administration was allowing a few days for stores to complete the changes necessary for compliance with the agreement as to wages and hours. There was every indication that at the same time a drive would be started looking toward the virtual boycott of firms not co-operating in the re-employment movement.

Johnson will speak tomorrow at Harrisburg, Pa., in support of the administration but at the same time he is expected to talk about the western strike and strike situation.

It was said today that he hoped the strike would be settled after his speech, if not before.

The recovery administration today set a hearing for August 10 on a permanent code of fair competition for the hosiery industry.

The industry now under a temporary code. The permanent agreement was received from the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers, claiming to represent 80 per cent of the industry.

The minimum wage scale runs from $17 to $27.50 a week in the north and from $15.50 to $24.50 in the south for the various skill classes. Gradations drop to $13 for the north and $12 for the south. The learner's minimum is $8.

The maximum work week would be 40 hours in productive operations. The maximum for office workers would be 40 hours over a six months period. Numerous workers, such as firemen and engineers, were excepted.

5,000 PLEDGES SIGNED BY TENNESSEE EMPLOYERS. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 1. (AP)—More than 5,000 employers in Tennessee and Arkansas had signed industrial recovery code agreements today.

Today's agreements included 154 from Memphis; 113 from Knoxville; 287 from Nashville; 91 from Chattanooga and Little Rock, 198.

"He has requested you to volunteer your services without compensation in this great drive for national rehabilitation."

"As a member of this board your duties will be to get every patriotic American citizen, employer and consumer to co-operate in this program. Please your acceptance immediately and you will receive further instructions."

The boards, under bulletin three, will advise with the recovery administration and pass upon such matters as are referred to them. The state board will meet at the call of the governor.

Although officials had attempted no tabulation of the number of employers who have signed the agreement, the stacks of telegrams were evidence of widespread response to the appeal.

1,000,000 Jobs. Supplementing the general effort to raise purchasing power, retailers are making more than 4,000,000 men put into temporary effect their code pending final hearing upon it. It was estimated that the code will require the employment of 1,000,000 men.

HARDWARE DEALERS BACK NRA PROGRAM

7:30-5:15 Hours Are Set; Constitutionality of City Ordinance Discussed.

Though protesting the constitutionality of an ordinance limiting the hours of stores, the Atlanta Retail Hardware Association Tuesday night enthusiastically backed the NRA program and adopted a code under which all retail hardware dealers in Atlanta, East Point, College Park, Decatur, Hapeville and East Atlanta, will pay the minimum wage and will open at 7:30 and close at 5:15 o'clock, except on Saturdays when the firms will stay open until 6:30 o'clock. The meeting was held at the Robert Fulton hotel, with President J. C. Brown presiding.

Much discussion on the legality of the ordinance passed by city council last week requiring stores to close at 5:15 and not to open before 7:30, took place at the meeting.

Homers Sewell was the principal speaker, his address being "The New Deal." Other speakers were George E. Everett, of Decatur; Mel Turner, of Decatur; John Braswell, vice president of the King Hardware Company; William A. Parker Jr., president of Beck & Gregg Hardware Company, and Dean Paulsen, vice president of the general manager of King Hardware Company.

George Murray acted as chairman of the committee which drew up the code. The code calls for the association plans to add as many employees as possible to take care of the business under the shortened hours.

D. B. Mitchell Dies Of Accident Injuries. MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 1. (AP)—A man whose name was given to a local hospital as D. B. Mitchell, of Atlanta, hurt in an automobile accident Sunday night, died today.

A woman, who, hospital officials said, claimed to be Mitchell's wife, has a broken jaw, and they said had refused to identify Mitchell or herself, other than to give his name.

Informing tonight that Mitchell was dead, she called for another of the wreck victims, known as "Bobby" Hunt, and whom, she said, was her brother.

Hunt left the hospital at noon, boarded a bus, and said he was going to an Atlanta hotel. Efforts of the hospital officials tonight to locate him failed. The body of Mitchell is being held for instructions from relatives.

The Atlanta city directory does not list a D. B. Mitchell, of Atlanta, nor could "Bobby" Hunt be located at Atlanta hotels.

Pertinent Points About Retail Codes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. (AP)—Here are some of the pertinent facts in connection with the retail codes made temporarily effective Monday by Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator.

What type of stores are affected? Retail dry goods, department, specialty shops, mail order, men's clothing and furnishings, furniture, food and grocery stores, food and grocery distributing agencies.

Are those accepting these provisions pending final approval of the code? Yes. The code is pending final approval of the code by the president's agreement and allowed to use the blue eagle insignia.

Do the codes cover all retailers? They apply only to those affiliating with the trade associations which have written the proposed permanent code of fair competition. Others may subscribe to the code but if they do not they must sign the president's agreement to obtain the official insignia.

What organizations submitted the code? The National Retail Furniture Association, National Retail Hardware Association, Mail Order Association of America, National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, National Retail Dry Goods Association, National Shoe Retailers Association, National Association of Retail Grocers, National American Wholesale Grocers Association, National Retail Grocery Chain Store Association, and Food Chain Store Distributors.

Are there any weapons for enforcing signing of the code other than public opinion against those who lack insignia? There is no other weapon.

Are restaurants under foodstuffs code? They are not included now.

Is there a $1 differential in wage provided for the south due to cheaper living costs? Yes.

Are drug stores included in the codes? Drug stores have not come under a code yet and will be expected to sign the blanket agreement.

filled with government securities, cash balances in the federal reserve and "other assets," he said, "which indicate that they are still waiting to see if the things which people own and have to offer for loans have any real value as a basis of credit."

"A banker may argue that he has no applications for loans that he can afford to make, but that same banker is probably continuing the policy of converting his loans into cash or government securities. This policy of forced liquidation should cease, and borrowers not only given time to work out their problems but encouraged to take an active part in the recovery program."

No Credit. "No one knows a banker for wanting to be able to pay his depositors upon demand, and I am not finding fault but merely calling attention to the fact that if banks are to be run on such a liquid basis as to be able to pay their depositors on demand, there will be no credit for business—and a simply stops the work."

To encourage banks to strengthen their positions and function as in normal times, Jones said the corporation was prepared to "match capital dollars with any sound bank that can use additional capital to advantage."

"The corporation will do this by buying preferred stock, to pay 5 per cent cumulative dividends, payable semi-annually out of net earnings," he said. "If dividends are not earned they will accumulate, but not be payable except from net earnings."

Jones said a billion dollars, or even a half-billion dollars, of added bank capital "can be multiplied many times in the extension of credit."

Roosevelt today gave his official approval. Under it, woolen mill workers will have their hours reduced to 40 hours a week, with minimum wages fixed at $14 in the north and $13 weekly in the south. The code will become effective August 14.

The hours and minimum wages finally established did not meet entirely with the approval of labor leaders, who had requested a 30-hour week and a minimum wage of $18.

The code contained a guarantee against reduction of wages under the shorter week and safeguards against the stretch-out system by which employees are given more machines to tend.

Other provisions of the code were designed to protect the industry against the over-production and over-capacity from which it has suffered for many years. These included re-employment of machine operation to two shifts of 40 hours a week, and submission by the approval of labor leaders of statistical data regarding employment, production, stocks on hand, financial and cost data, and consumption and stocks of raw material.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS FEDERAL MEANS TO END KIDNAPING

session of congress convening in January. Moley described the national recovery act allowing national combination by industries for trade agreements as "a step in the right direction" in beating down racketeering.

He left little doubt that the president intends to use all the power at his command under this legislation to enforce these agreements and battle racketeers on the outside.

It is expected also Mr. Roosevelt will seek great co-operation between the states and federal government on seeking kidnappers. Moley said he knew of no immediate public appeal by Mr. Roosevelt in this direction.

"A big trouble," explained Moley, "is that neither crime is specific and definite. They are part of the general situation which we are trying to remedy."

No General Survey. He said he knew of no proposed general survey on the subject.

Asked about the war debts situation, Moley said he knew of no change in the administration's policy. In notes to those debtor nations who made partial payments in June, this government proposed an early study of this problem.

The assistant secretary of state motored here from New York with Mrs. Anne Curtis Dill who was bringing her two children, "Bliss" and "Buzza," to remain during the hot spell with their grandfather and grandmother.

J. SID TILLER IS SEEN AS HUIET'S SUCCESSOR

Councilman Almand Reported Committed to Nomination; Bridges' Aid Sought

Probability that J. Sid Tiller, candidate to succeed Alderman Ben T. Huiet, of the third ward, will be nominated at council's next meeting to succeed Huiet, who has been named a member of the new public service commission, was seen Tuesday.

Council Ed L. Almand, of the ward, is reported committed to the nomination, and the aid of Councilman G. Dan Bridges, the other member of the delegation, is being sought. Almand was out of the city Tuesday and could not be reached for a statement, while Bridges said he had not yet reached a decision.

It is known that Tiller would accept the election, which would continue until after the general election in December, if council designated him as Huiet's successor.

James E. Jackson Jr., Tiller's opponent in the September 20 primary for Huiet's unexpired term, said Tuesday afternoon that he did not object to the election, but that he felt the voters should be left to decide the matter.

Another effort to force selection of a new democratic executive committee in the primary was made Tuesday when G. C. O'Dell, of the fourth ward, and W. K. Durham, of the second, sought a court order to force the present committee to accept nomination fees and hold an election at the same time other nominations are made.

Two previous similar actions are now on appeal to state supreme court, although the lower court ordered the election for executive committee members.

Severe Heat Wave Continues To Grip Eastern Part of U. S.

By the Associated Press.

The weather man's promise of relieving rains failed to materialize in the east last night and the torrid temperatures held their grip. In New York city, the peak Tuesday was three degrees under the Monday century mark, but the humidity was more oppressive. Three deaths were attributed to the abnormal heat. The forecast held out hope for rain Wednesday.

Over the Atlantic northern seaboard, the sun seared. Across the Hudson from New York, it reached 98 in Newark with one death. In Baltimore, it was the same, with seven prostrations.

In Pittsburgh, a baby died from the heat. In Philadelphia, a 97 broke all records for August 1. The nation's Retail clothing stores of Atlanta handling men's clothes will open at 8:45 o'clock and close at 5:30 o'clock, 6 o'clock on Saturdays, it was agreed on Tuesday at a largely attended meeting of dealers. The hours were made effective on Tuesday.

Regulations affecting deliveries and C. O. D. packages were also adopted, effective on August 1 also. All packages will be delivered not earlier than the morning of the day following the date of purchase, and only one delivery a day will be made. A 10-cent fee will be charged for

255 Georgians Leave Saturday On Ford Special to Detroit

Two hundred fifty-five Georgians will leave Atlanta next Saturday on the Ford special for Detroit, a trip sponsored by Ford dealers in the Atlanta branch territory.

This trip was given to purchasers of Ford cars by the dealers and includes a trip to Dearborn, Mich., where the mammoth Ford operations are carried on, with a special sight-seeing tour through Menlo Park.

Then they will receive their new Ford and head for Chicago and the world's fair.

This offer was made by the Ford dealers to the purchasers of new cars, who would take delivery in Detroit. The trip on the train will be paid for and an ample amount of cash given in Detroit to defray the expenses to the world's fair and then home.

"Betty, darling, why dance when we can Terraplane? I've never ridden in such a car."

"Neither had I, till Ned brought this miracle home last week."

"After having driven 'all three', Patsy, the Terraplane stood out like a lighthouse."

"So say we all of us"

The rising chorus of Terraplane owners—strengthened by performance records, economy facts and experience convictions—is drowning out all comparisons.

Get a group of Terraplane owners together—anywhere in the world—and they sound like convention delegates all trying to nominate the same candidate.

"Never have to shift gears on hills."
"Get around every car on the road without effort."
"Not a cent for repairs in 29,000 miles."
"Smooth as a greyhound over a fence."
"More than 400 miles a day without fatigue."

That's the sort of thing they're saying. Ask them, and they'll tell you.

Even better, drive a Terraplane and you won't have to ask anybody!

FOLLOW THE Bible Game
$1,800 IN CASH PRIZES!

By THE BIBLE GAME EDITOR.
Among the many pleasant attributes of The Constitution's Bible game is its impressive list of awards, the most important being a greater knowledge of the Scriptures. Followers of the feature seem to be as interested in its educational value as in the cash prizes, although the latter are generous. So meritorious is the Bible game that it has won the enthusiastic approval of clergymen of all faiths and the hearty indorsement of all lay lovers of the Book of Books.

Recently, several Bible gamers have asked where they may obtain a copy of the Bible Treasury, an abridgement of the Scriptures, which includes all of the most appropriate verses for the series of 80 pictures. Readers who desire may order the Treasury through The Constitution. It is 50 cents a copy; by mail, 54 cents.

Questions and Answers

The Single Verse.
Q.—Does a picture represent just one verse, or should other verses around it be taken into consideration? This is quite a beautiful game, I think, and much enjoyed.—A. E. Decatur, Ga.

A.—Each Bible game picture represents a specific verse chosen from the Bible Treasury, and is the artist's illustration for that single verse.

Just One.
Q.—Must an answer be restricted to one verse only, or can we write two or more successive verses, to make a more complete answer?—L. V. C. F., Atlanta.

A.—Only one verse should be supplied for any one picture in a set.

Abbreviations Acceptable.
Q.—Please advise whether or not is it permissible to abbreviate the names of the books of the Bible as they appear abbreviated in the Bible Treasury, or must one write out the full names?—Mrs. J. F. A., Atlanta.

A.—Yes, indeed, you may write the books of the Bible just as they are given in the Bible Treasury.

Sorry!
Q.—Would it be in order for you to state if the principal figure in pictures No. 1 and 2 represent the Master?—G. E. C., Decatur, Ga.

A.—The B. G. E. is not permitted to answer this question.

Sorry!
Q.—Would like to enter your Bible game if possible. Please send details.—R. J. H., Dayton, Ohio.

A.—The Constitution's Bible game is restricted to residents of Georgia and adjacent states, and you would not be eligible to take part.

Sorry!
Q.—I wish to enter your Bible game. Am I eligible?—Mrs. A. D. Ludlow, Ky.

A.—See above.

Anonymous letters from contestants who ask interesting questions frequently cannot, because of limited space, be answered in this column. Contestants can be assured of a reply only when they sign their names and addresses. Only their initials will be used if their questions are answered here.

Contestants may feel free to consult the Bible Game Editor at any time, by mail, in person, or by telephoning Walnut 6365. Reasonable questions will be answered gladly.

(Note: This picture is drawn to represent a verse chosen from the Bible Treasury, an abridgment of the "Authorized" or King James version of the Scriptures.)

INSTRUCTIONS.

The total prize money to be awarded Bible Game followers is $1,800. The first prize is $1,000. The second, $400; the third, $100; the fourth, $75; and the fifth, $25. There are ten prizes of $10 each and twenty prizes of $5 each.

The prizes will go to readers who submit the eighty most appropriate verse-answers for the series of eighty pictures. No subscription need be obtained to qualify for any of the prizes, and non-subscribers are invited to take part. It is not necessary to register. There will be no essays to compose, letters to write, or extra pictures or puzzles to solve.

The Bible Game pictures and verse-answers are NOT to be submitted now. Wait until ALL of the pictures have been published, then bring or mail them in at one time, as a set.

ARKANSAS CASHIER FIRED FOR KEEPING TOO MUCH CASH

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 1.—(P) State Bank Commissioner Marion Wasson today discharged the cashier of a bank robbed yesterday for having too much cash on hand in a move to stop bank robberies in Arkansas.

Using powers granted him under the 1933 emergency banking law, the commissioner ordered the discharge of Charles X. Williams, cashier of the Citizens Bank of Booneville, robbed of about $2,000 yesterday, for failure to comply with instructions of the state banking department to keep only enough cash on hand to meet ordinary needs and to keep regular banking hours.

"I think the best way to stop bank robs and bandits is to remove the temptation and profit from robbery by the banks outside the reserve centers discontinuing keeping any cash on hand except a small amount for the purpose of making change," said Commissioner Wasson in issuing his order. "In case any customer needs cash, let him give bank notice in advance so that currency can be shipped from reserve banks."

LINDBERGH MAY FLY TO SCORESBY SOUND

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 1.—(P) Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, now surveying West Greenland on their north Atlantic air route mapping expedition, were reported today to be making preparations for a flight to Scoresby sound, Greenland.

Dispatches from Holsteinberg, their present base, said they made a flight late yesterday northward to Ritenbenk, returning in the evening. "It was reported they eventually would visit Scoresby sound and that they were in communication with Dr. Laue Koch, at that point, seeking information concerning gasoline supplies there. The gasoline and oil depot of the late Parker Cramer, lost in the North sea in 1931 on a north Atlantic mapping flight, is at Scoresby sound."

Wheat Acreage Rule Delayed by Wallace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P) Secretary Wallace announced today postponement until August 24 of his decision setting the percentage of wheat acreage reduction to be asked of farmers in consideration of benefits payments to be paid under the voluntary domestic allotment plan.

Wallace said he "wishes to give the world wheat conference an opportunity to reach a decision for a reduction of production by all four great exporting nations before the United States embarks independently upon a definite domestic acreage reduction program of its own."

Wallace's order was recognition of a cablegram received late last week asking him to postpone his decision because of new possibilities for an international agreement being reached at London.

CLARK GABLE RESTING AFTER APPENDECTOMY

HAPEVILLE SEEKS PUBLIC WORK FUND

Council Adopts $250,000 Program for Power Plant and Buildings.

The $250,000 public works program recently recommended for Hapeville was unanimously approved by Hapeville council Tuesday night, and the appeal for the fund from the Georgia public works committee will be made Thursday or Friday, it was announced. Council also adopted the ordinance restricting the hours of stores from 7:30 o'clock in the morning to 5:15 in the afternoon as passed by the city of Atlanta last week.

Included in the public improvements to be constructed with the $250,000, if granted, will be a municipal power plant for street lights and city needs; a $55,000 city hall which also will house a new fire station, library and city auditorium, and a new water and sewer system. The motion to borrow the money from the public works committee was introduced by a committee composed of Councilmen Edward L. Johnson, Brown Tyler and O. M. Huie, Mayor Quincy Arnold presided at the regular meeting at which much routine business also was considered.

Council voted not to place city employees on an eight-hour basis, but would necessitate an increase in taxes should extra employees be added. However, the same action as taken in Atlanta in regard to the opening and closing of business houses was adopted by the body.

The municipal power plant, to cost approximately $250,000, is expected to pay for itself in three or four years. Hapeville now buys on the average of $10,000 worth of power from the Georgia Power Company and with this saving would pay for the construction of the plant. Afterward the saving would be turned to expenses of the city and eventually would result in lowering of taxes, it was said. Should the program go through, 150 men would be employed over a period of 10 months or a year at an average wage of $2 a day, completely taking care of Hapeville's unemployment situation, it was said.

PIGGLY WIGGLY JOINS NRA PROCESSION

Piggly Wigglie Stores, the grocery chain, have complied with President Roosevelt's re-employment agreement 100 per cent, the company announced on Tuesday.

The announcement added that new employees had been added to the company's payroll, and salaries had been increased approximately $1,000 in Atlanta.

Under the caption, "Lead on, Mr. President," the company said:

"Without hesitation, Piggly Wigglie Stores have lined up with your program 100 per cent. We propose to follow your dauntless leadership to the fulfillment of a better standard of living for us all."

ROCKEFELLERS VICTORS IN OUTLAWED SUIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(P) Supreme Court Justice Richard P. Lyon today dismissed a $25,000,000 suit brought against John D. Rockefeller Jr. by Charles Bright, an attorney, on the ground it was barred by the statute of limitations.

Bright sued Mr. Rockefeller, his father, John D. Rockefeller Sr., George Gordon Battle and others, alleging that he, as the holder of $50,000 worth of bonds of the Pan-American Transcontinental Railway Company, had been defrauded through a "conspiracy" by the Rockefellers to obtain control of the railway in Uruguay. The suit was based on transactions in 1914.

Mr. Rockefeller Jr. was the only defendant moving for dismissal.

In Georgia's Fields and Streams

ALLIGATOR SNAPPER.

The alligator snapping-turtle (Macroclypeus lacertina) inhabits the sluggish streams of the southeastern United States, and is the largest of the fresh water turtles. Specimens have been known to reach the weight of 165 pounds, although the average specimen which be in the neighborhood of 100 pounds. The shell is over 30 inches long, with nine inches of head and a stout tail added to the ends. On the back there are three ridges which run from the head to the tail end of the shell. The head is large, and is equipped with a pair of very powerful jaws which have been known to sever a stout broom handle.

The tongue is one of the remarkable features of this gigantic reptile. It looks like a white grub, and it is said that fish will swim into the turtle's mouth and bite at the tongue. When the jaws close, the act is over. Having never observed this action I cannot vouch for it personally. I do know that the alligator snapper has a pair of very powerful jaws which have been known to sever a stout broom handle.

The National Zoological park in Washington has a specimen of this species in a tank in the new reptile house. The entire back of this example is covered with mossy algae, and to the casual observer it gives the appearance of great age. The wicked little eyes in a massive head inspire a feeling of awe, to say the least. I had just as soon meet with a vicious alligator any day as a normal snapper. They cannot be trusted.

The museum at Emory University has a fine mounted specimen of alligator snapper. It is not as large as some that I have seen, but its dimensions are still highly respectable. You will be able to gain a very accurate idea of this sort of turtle from the Emory specimen. Of course, in the process of mounting, the most-back appearance must give way to the fine polish of the real shell, which is really more accurate than the appearance of the living, camouflaged specimen.

There are any number of things about this turtle that we want to know. When does it breed? What is the rate of growth? Where is it most abundant? These and other questions should be given much study, for the alligator snapper is our most primitive turtle in fresh water.

Tomorrow: Starlings.

RAIL TRENCHES PAY CUT DISCUSSED IN MEETING

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(P) The three railway co-ordinating committees representing the east, west and south met today to discuss the problem of reductions in executive salaries. No statement was made following the meeting.

The adjustment of salaries in the higher brackets was one of the first subjects which Joseph R. Eastman, federal co-ordinator, recommended for consideration.

Before any plan can be adopted, however, it must receive the approval of Mr. Eastman.

WAGGONER LOSES PLEA FOR FEDERAL PAROLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P) Application of Charles D. Waggoner, "old-luride, Col., banker for parole from his ten-year sentence in the federal penitentiary for defrauding New York banks has been denied by the federal parole board.

The department of justice, announcing the decision, gave no reason for the action, saying the board never made public why it had refused application for a parole.

Waggoner, now in the Atlanta penitentiary, applied for a parole last spring and the board held a hearing at the prison.

NAVAL SUPREMACY

Greatest Outlay in History of Empire Planned for New Navy Craft.

TOKYO, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Japanese army and navy chiefs today presented estimates for the 1934-35 defense expenditures larger than any in previous history and 45 per cent greater than the appropriation for the current year.

The estimates, which were submitted to the finance ministry for inclusion in the imperial budget, included 180,000,000 yen ($50,400,000 at current exchange rates) for new naval construction and 75,000,000 yen ($21,900,000) for modernization of capital ships.

The navy ministry asked for the fiscal year beginning next April 1 the sum of 980,000,000 yen ($290,400,000), which is 30 per cent more than the estimates of 1921-22, the largest previous estimates for the sea forces. In that year Japan extended herself to compete with the United States and Great Britain in capital ships as the Washington limitations conference approached.

The navy building program of the Roosevelt administration was believed by Japanese and foreign authorities here to be the primary motivating influence in this projected increase in marine fighting power.

Recent Troubles Cited.

The diplomatic isolation of Japan and friction with several western powers as a result of the Manchurian trouble and Japan's leaving the League of Nations was given as a second potent reason.

A third important motive was said to be the determination of the Japanese government to go to the naval conference in 1935 with a fleet in commission or in construction up to the limits of the London treaty, upon which would be based the demand for naval parity with the United States and Great Britain.

It was authoritatively reported that the record estimate submitted by the army ministry calls for 500,000,000 yen ($150,600,000). This would insure that the present budget of 2,300,000,000 yen ($684,000,000), with a deficit of 1,000,000,000 yen ($290,400,000) will be exceeded. The current budget of the empire is the largest ever voted.

The combined army and navy demands total 1,480,000,000 yen ($441,000,000), a figure 45 per cent larger than the current appropriation.

Fight "U. S." Fleet.

Japan's most extensive naval maneuvers in recent history were begun today in the Pacific waters south of the empire. Upwards of 100 units of the Japanese navy participated.

The warships, fit and trim, slid out of harbors and naval bases, and turned toward the south where at a point about halfway between Japan and the Philippine Islands most of the war games will be conducted.

The grand maneuvers, testing the practical fighting strength of the Japanese sea force against a theoretical enemy—this year the United States, it was admitted—will be held in secrecy. No foreign naval attaché or official was permitted to accompany the fleet. Customarily, foreign attachés are permitted to view the air force and army maneuvers but the naval games are held in privacy.

No circumstances should I make a show of fight, or else it would be too bad. They further expressed regret that they had to camp me down in the bottom of the car, but said it was necessary because they might meet officers and there would be some shooting and they did not want me harmed.

We rode over dirt roads all night. I do not know in what direction. Some time after daylight—I could just tell the difference between daylight and dark over my tape—they stopped and gave me a bottle of soft drink. I did not get up or get out.

We continued our ride until sometime in the afternoon, when we reached our destination. It was a backwoods bungalow. By my movements about it I learned that it was of three rooms, a rude sort of place in, I should say, tenant farmer country or possibly foothill country. The equipment in the shack was very poor. The beds were cheap. I was tied up at night, but had the freedom of my hands and legs in the day time.

Guards Not Talkative.

There were guards at the shack in addition to the two men who took me away from my home. They seemed to be the principals in the case. The guards did not know much about the case, in my judgment. They were only a few developments are necessary before Delaney will be prepared to make his final move in the three weeks' search for the abductors.

One of the 12 men at the prosecution advised the O'Connell family to include in a group that might be satisfactory to the snatch mob was Man-o'-War Street, 30-year-old former convict. Strelow now is held by the authorities.

Delaney said Strelow had given him "much valuable information" and added that he would likely be charged with being an accessory to the kidnapping.

"You can't act as a go-between in cases like this without being charged with something," said Delaney. "He probably will be booked as an accomplice."

Why didn't Strelow come to me with the information he had? prosecutor added. "If he or Strelow had tipped me off where the money was passed we'd have gotten the gang, dead or alive."

Wears Kidnapers' Pajamas.

I must have been a sorry looking sight with the beard I wore. I did not get a change of clothing from the kidnapers, although one of them dejectedly lent me a pair of pajamas to live in. They fed me regularly, although the fare was sorry, mostly canned goods, and tomatoes and baked beans. The coffee was the kind a man often gets on camping trips without a cook. We had no fresh vegetables or fresh meat, as there was no cooking, except coffee for early breakfast.

I am sure a store of provisions was laid in before we reached the place and that no contact was made for food after we arrived there. They were generous with cigars, but these were not my brand.

We were 14 hours in making the journey from Oklahoma City to our destination. The length of the trip in miles, of course, would be a wild estimate. I do not think we traveled any more than 40 miles an hour any of the time, and much of the time we slowed down to 15 or 20 miles. It may have been 300 miles and it may have been 500 miles away from Oklahoma City.

Every Day a Month.

Under the circumstances I could not sleep. Every hour seemed a week long and every day was a month. I was very sore from the long ride knotted up in the bottom of the car, and was physically uncomfortable for the first two or three days.

Of course I had a lot of time to think. When I dozed off occasionally, I would be the victim of the wildest sort of dreams. I wondered what my friends were doing and how they were going about helping me. I knew my affairs were in good hands and I got a great deal of satisfaction out of the thought that my wife and Arthur Seeligson were capable of handling any situation that might arise.

Although I lost track of time, they told me when it was Sunday and suggested that it was possible I was going to be released that day. When the hours passed and no move took place my morale went very low. Sunday night was very, very long. I don't think I slept a wink.

Morning Before Release.

Monday things picked up around the shack. There was a different tone to the voices and I felt that the end of my imprisonment was near. When one of the fellows said, "Well, Mr. Urschel, we are going to give you a shave and clean you up for a trip to town," I knew arrangements for my release had been effected.

I wondered how much money they had obtained. I felt sure that with business conditions as they are today and the oil business such as it is, my family and associates would have had a great deal of difficulty raising any great sum of money.

We were 12 hours driving back. My eyes were taped again immediately after I finished shaving and I again was piled in the back of an automobile and bumped over endless country roads. North of Norman, just within sight of the lights of the town, I was released and told where I was and how to make my way from that point. I walked to a hamburger stand, called a taxi by telephone and was taken 20 miles to my home in Oklahoma City.

Own Door Barred to Him.

A man I never saw before answered the door and refused to let me in. Tired and near exhaustion as I was, I got a big laugh out of being refused admission to my own house. I went to the back door and as soon as some of the help were aroused, of course, the family began to show up and everything was rosy.

Although I do not care to discuss Mrs. Urschel's part in this affair in detail, I want to say I believe that she was responsible for the quick and successful culmination of the negotiations with my abductors.

I do not know how much help I can give to the federal authorities. I shall be glad to be of whatever service I may. My present feeling is one of great joy at being restored to freedom and my family. Naturally, I shudder at the thought of the things I have experienced and hope that no other man or woman or child may ever have to go through such an ordeal. I feel that everything the federal government can do to put an end to kidnaping in the United States is an imperative necessity.

Many Writers Enter Ditties In Jacobs Pharmacy Contest

The thousands of ditties that have poured in to the Contest Editor in the Do-A-Ditty Contest about Jacobs, show that people are aware of the importance of the place that Jacobs pharmacies have won in the confidence of Atlanta citizens.

It is particularly interesting to read the 4-line verses of praise about Dr. Joseph Jacobs, the beloved founder of the Jacobs stores. Dr. Jacobs established the first Jacobs store on the same location that Jacobs main store at Five Points is now situated, just 54 years ago. His policy of "toin' fair" with southern folks and saving them on the important item of drugs and sundries endeared him to everyone in this section.

His charities and public-spirited work made him one of Atlanta's first citizens. Many of the ditties tell about three and four generations of satisfied customers. Many tell of 35 to 50 years that they have traded at Jacobs.

The ditties also show a thorough knowledge of the famous 2-for-1 sale that Jacobs has inaugurated in this section—just as they were the first to feature cut prices for drugs in the south. There are scores of ditties about 2-for-1 sales and what a tremendous saving these special Jacobs events have meant to them over many years.

Every week the judges have had a difficult time in selecting the best ditties, and the officials of Jacobs Pharmacy regret there were not many times the number of prizes to offer for the verses received. However, three competent judges are selected for each week and their decisions are final. Sinclair Jacobs asks that those who have entered ditties and have been disappointed in not having received a prize, try again before the contest is over. There's still plenty of time to try for a valuable cash or merchandise prize and the grand prizes are well worth working for.

The weekly prizes are headed by two $5 cash prizes, and 23 other valuable prizes. Everyone who has won a prize during this eight-week contest is eligible for the grand prize. The judges will decide which are the best of the ditties that have been entered and their decision will govern the lucky people who win the following awards:

First prize, $100 in cash; second prize, $25 in cash; third prize, $15 in cash; fourth prize, $10 in cash; fifth prize, $7.50 in cash; sixth prize, $5 in cash; seventh prize, $2.50 in cash; next 10 prizes, $1 in cash.

YOUTHS HURT BY TRAIN ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Jimmy Fowler, 18, of 632 Bankhead avenue, and Andrew Baxter, 19, who lives near Rome, two of five youths who were injured Sunday afternoon when a switch engine plowed into their automobile at Glass street, near Maddox park, were patients in Crawford W. Long hospital Tuesday. Fowler's condition was described as good but it was said that Baxter, who was injured about the head, was in a serious condition.

Three other youths were hurt in the accident but were dismissed after being treated at the hospital. They were R. S. Bell, 20, of 2335 Alexander street; R. V. Baxter, 21, of 379 Jones avenue, and L. C. Brookshire, 16, of 1241 Mills street.

POLAND TO BE SPEAKER FOR RECOVERY BUREAU

Carter D. Poland, of Anniston, Ala., president of Poland's Soap works and widely known among advertising men in Atlanta, has been designated a member of the speakers' bureau of the division of public relations of the national recovery administration.

Mr. Poland will travel out of Washington and co-operate with state, county and civic organizations in publishing the provisions of codes promulgated by the administration. The president's program," he said Tuesday, "embraces all that I have been urging for two years and I was happy to join, notwithstanding that it meant I was required to increase wages in my business a total of 30 per cent to care for the additional workers necessary. I am convinced that the national recovery act is business' hope for the future."

29 AUTO FATALITIES REPORTED IN STATE

Automobile deaths in Georgia in July show an increase of one over June, the Dixie Motor Club announced Tuesday. Twenty-nine persons were killed in the state during the month, Charlie Cook, secretary said, adding that there were 1,848 accidents in which 931 persons were injured.

In the Greater Atlanta territory, the report said, there were nine deaths, almost a third of the state total. Among the deaths were three children under five years of age and 17 of the deaths were under 21, the report said.

Indian Woman Winner In Suit for Million

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A four-word telegram from the circuit court of appeals in Denver informed Hanna Anderson, 26-year-old Creek Indian, that she had suddenly become immensely wealthy after a lifetime of drudgery.

The telegram read: "Roberts versus Anderson affirmed."

The message meant that Hanna had won a lingering lawsuit that had tied up oil funds now totaling approximately $1,050,000 for several years.

The Indian woman had instituted suit through Merrick A. Whipple, attorney in many celebrated Indian cases, to quit title to certain restricted Indian lands inherited by her from Lena Yahola Alexander, deceased full-blood Creek.

DODGE CAR SALESMEN, DEALERS, MEET HERE

A meeting of Dodge dealers and salesmen was held on Tuesday morning at the Atlanta Athletic Club to discuss changes in the industry since the beginning of the Roosevelt new era.

A. S. HEATON.

A. S. Heaton, factory representative and assistant director of merchandising, told of increased sales of Dodge cars for the past 38 weeks. The only break, he said, came during the bank holiday.

The major part of the Dodge meeting was devoted to matters relating to the activities of the regional dealers and retail salesmen during the autumn months of the present year for which unusually ambitious programs have been laid out.

Counterparts of the Atlanta Dodge dealer-salesmen meeting are being held under supervision of factory officials in seventeen other major cities, and by regional managers and members of the field organization in forty-five additional places.

L. H. HARDIN NAMED ASSISTANT TO MEES

Appointment of Lewis H. Hardin, of Fort Worth, Texas, as assistant to Curtis B. Mees, of Charlotte, N. C., consulting engineer of the Georgia public service commission, to handle valuation work, was announced Tuesday by Jud P. Wilhoit, chairman. Mr. Hardin will begin immediately to value Georgia public utilities, Mr. Mees said.

Mr. Hardin and Mr. Mees formerly were associated in engineering work for 12 years. Mr. Mees said that the new valuation engineer has had years of experience in this line of work and will be of valuable assistance in making and checking valuations of the utilities.

Mr. Mees pointed out that many states assess cost of valuations against the utilities, and allow them to charge the costs as operating expenses, and that such a plan may be worked out in Georgia.

TALMADGE ISSUES CLEMENCY ORDERS

Clemency orders announced Tuesday at the governor's office included commutation to present sentence of the 12 to 15-year term of Robert L. Crow, of Franklin county, who was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in connection with the killing of William Morris Whitmire in 1929.

Other clemency orders included the parole of Albert Hudson, who was convicted in Fulton superior court in 1925 of the murder of Albert Hunter and given a life sentence; and the parole of Charlie Walden, who was convicted of murder in Meriwether county in 1919.

J. C. Gorman, who was given two to three years and 12 months in Fulton county for robbery and assault and battery, was given commutation. Gorman, it was said, robbed S. W. Sullivan of $172 and a watch on May 28, 1932. James Locklear, convicted in Floyd county of possessing whisky, was placed on probation.

$115,000 Allotted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The war department today allotted $115,000 for the construction of new drawbridges across the dismal swamp canal at Deep Creek, Va., and South Mills, N. C.

PUBLIC WORK PROGRAM DISCUSSED BY COUNTY

Tentative Schedule Given Partial Approval. Body Meets Again Today.

Partial approval of a tentative public works program under which Fulton county will seek funds from the government was adopted at a special meeting of the county commissioners Tuesday.

The remainder of the plan will be discussed at the regular meeting of the board to be held this afternoon. The board today will discuss the feasibility of adopting a sewage project as well as a number of highway projects.

The board Tuesday tentatively approved plans for building a court house annex to house a jail, and the construction of a new almshouse with white and colored divisions. Architects were named for these projects.

William J. J. Chase was named architect for the almshouse project but has not submitted figures for approval. The firm of Hutz, Anderson & Shute, and C. P. Hobson, were selected as architects for the annex. They said that $1,900,000 will be needed.

Architects for both the almshouse and annex projects were instructed to draft applications for the federal money, using their figures as a tentative basis. These applications are to be approved later and submitted.

A grand jury committee, headed by C. P. Lyness, conferred with the commissioners Tuesday on the public works plan. This committee will inspect the county jail at 10 o'clock this morning with a view to approving or disapproving the annex and jail project. The jury has been asked to assist the county in obtaining the federal money.

NEWSPAPER ALLIANCE TO OPEN OFFICE HERE

The Georgia Newspaper Alliance of Accredited Weeklies, a recently formed organization to control publicity, handle advertising and collect accounts for its members, will open central offices at 1111 Atlanta National building, L. K. Starr, managing director of the organization, announced Tuesday.

Weekly papers in the state are eligible to join the alliance, said Mr. Starr. The organization was formed by weekly newspaper publishers meeting at Atlanta last week. Its officers are: Jere N. Moore, Milledgeville, chairman, Carey Williams, Greensboro, secretary and Roy N. Emmett, of Cedartown, J. W. McGinty, of Calhoun, and O. W. Fassant, of Newnan, members of the board of directors.

Mr. Starr said that additional members of the alliance will be received in the next two weeks and will be passed on by an executive committee August 12. Associated with Mr. Starr in the central office will be Cliff Fligg, widely known in newspaper circles, and James C. Martin, who will be head of the art department.

43 RAILROAD CLERKS AFFILIATE WITH UNION

Forty-three clerks in the employ of the N. C. & St. L. railroad have been admitted to membership in the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Dunn, grand vice president of the brotherhood, announced Tuesday.

Under the emergency railroad transportation act railroad employees are authorized to designate their representatives "without interference, influence or coercion." The clerks admitted to membership in the brotherhood said through Mr. Dunn that they deemed it advisable to become affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Previously they had been members of an association.

Mr. Dunn stated that he had opened offices in the Atlanta hotel looking to the organization of all clerical employees of railroads in the Atlanta territory.

ALBANY HOME LOAN BRANCH APPROVED

Establishment of a branch of the Home Owners Loan Corporation in Albany was approved Monday by the board at Washington. Frank Holden, Georgia manager, was notified. Holden said it will be opened in a few days.

Branches of the corporation are located in Savannah and Macon, with the main office here.

J. M. Mayo, of Camilla, has been selected as Albany branch manager and Howell Cobb, of Albany, as attorney. They were recommended by Holden.

COOPER TRANSFERRED TO GULF OFFICE HERE

The Gulf Life Insurance Company, with home offices in Jacksonville, has added ordinary life to its industrial business here, the company announced on Tuesday.

H. L. Cooper, general agent in Jacksonville, has been transferred to the Atlanta office and will be associated with A. P. Phillips as general agent. He will handle ordinary life business.

Mr. Cooper has been with the company for six years in its home office at Jacksonville. The company has handled industrial insurance here for the past two years and will continue it with its other lines.

BANDITS PAY VISIT TO WOMAN BANKER

BOONEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 1.—(AP)—One of Arkansas' few women bank presidents had an experience with bank robbers yesterday.

Two men robbed the Citizens bank here of an undetermined sum estimated at about $2,000, locked the president, Mrs. Mattie Edwards, the cashier and a customer in the vault, and later shot and wounded a farmer at whose home they stopped.

Poses searched the hills of this section today for the bandits.

Amos Blythe, the farmer, was wounded in the leg by a shot fired by one of the robbers as he appeared in the door of his father's home when the pair stopped there. After leaving there the robbers seized another farmer's automobile, leaving their own.

JOHNNY LIVINGSTON ESCAPES PLANE CRASH

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Johnny Livingston, Aurora (Ill.) speed flyer, escaped injury here today when he was forced to jump with a parachute from his disabled plane, 6,000 feet over Port Columbus, municipal air field.

The plane, badly damaged, was found four miles north of Gahanna, a small town near the port.

Livingston said that he was forced to try to get free from the ship three times before he finally made it. Each time he started over the cawling the plane started into a nose dive and he was forced to right it so that he could jump clear.

Livingston, who said his ship was worth about $12,000, suffered a wrenching ankle.

"Hold Me Tight" Plays Rialto For Three Days

"Hold Me Tight," a romance of modern marriage and its problems among the millions, opens a three-day return engagement today at the Rialto theater. James Dunn and Sally Eilers play the leading roles, of two young workers in a department store. They get married, believing they can live on their combined salaries, but Jimmie has lost his job, although he doesn't find it out until after the ceremony.

Then, for awhile, they live on her earnings, until Jimmy revolts and leaves, swearing he won't return until he finds a job and can support his wife. His tribulations are typical of millions during the recent depression era but of course, before the end of the picture, he comes back with a bang and the ending leaves everybody reasonably sure of a "happy ever after" future.

Clever short subjects complete the bill which will play the Rialto through Friday night.

Matinee of "The Patsy" Today at Erlanger

There will be a bargain matinee at the Erlanger theater this afternoon at 2:15, when the Peruchi Players will present "The Patsy," acclaimed by critics as the finest piece of entertainment this stock organization has given Atlanta yet. Mary Ann Dentler is exceptionally clever in the central role while Mildred Peters, Gordon Peters, Klock Ryder and Mrs. Peruchi are others in outstanding roles. There will also be the regular performance at 8:15 tonight.

Next week the Peruchians will present "Across the Street," one of the most different comedies ever written, in which much of the action takes place among the audience in the theater and, in fact, the audience themselves take part in the performance. Seats remain at the low scale inaugurated here by Mr. Peruchi.

Robert Montgomery Sets Hour Of Phone Talk With Atlanta Girl

Robert Montgomery, famous star of the screen, will be delighted to talk over the telephone with some Atlanta girl next Monday night, a telegram from the star to Ralph T. Jones, theater editor of The Constitution, received Tuesday, suggested about 7 o'clock next Monday night as the most suitable time. So, at that hour Monday, the lucky Atlanta girl will enjoy a private conversation with Montgomery, she speaking from Loew's Grand theater here and he from his dressing room at the Capitol theater in New York.

The girl who will carry on the Atlanta end of the conversation will be the winner in the "Another Language" contest, being conducted this week by the Grand and The Constitution.

Entrants in this contest must submit essays, not exceeding 100 words in length, on "My Impressions of Robert Montgomery." They should be sent to the Robert Montgomery Contest Editor, care The Constitution and, to be eligible, must be postmarked not later than midnight Thursday. The winner will be announced in Monday's Constitution and she will thus have all day to decide just what she will say to Montgomery over the telephone. Incidentally while the 100-word limitation to the essays will be strictly enforced, there is no time limit to the telephone conversation.

The girl winner need not fear any interruption or embarrassment during her conversation with the famous star. A special telephone wire will be arranged and she will speak, either from a soundproof private booth at the theater or from the manager's office. In either case she will be entirely safe from outside interruption.

In addition to the winner of first prize, the telephone talk with Montgomery, the next 10 best essays will receive prizes of a pair of guest tickets each to see "Another Language," in which Montgomery stars with Edna May Oliver and which will be the feature attraction at Loew's Grand theater starting next Friday.

Montgomery, in his telegram of Tuesday, hints rather directly that he'd like to see, as well as talk to, the winner of the contest. His wire reads as follows:

"It will be a pleasure to talk over long-distance telephone with the winner of your 'Another Language' contest. I suggest that you arrange the phone call for about 9 o'clock (7 o'clock Atlanta time) Monday night at which time I will be in my dressing room at the Capitol theater. Too bad there is not telephonic television. I've heard so much about your Atlanta beauties. Regards."

BARRON COLLIER WINS FURTHER DEBT TIME
TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 1.—(P)—Barron Collier, New York and Florida advertising magnate, today received permission from Federal Judge Ritter at Miami, to take 45 days more in completing his proposed three-year schedule for paying seventeen million in debts to his creditors.

Collier was said here to be one of the first persons to take advantage of a recently amended federal statute allowing debtors protection of the courts in deferring payments on their debts.

KANSAN KILLS SELF AFTER SHOOTING TWO
NORTON, Kan., Aug. 1.—(P)—After shooting one man to death, critically wounding another and making an unsuccessful attempt to slay his estranged wife, Wilfred Lund, 35-year-old laborer, committed suicide as a posse was about to close in on him. The victim was Frank McCune, about 55, a farmer, in whose home Mrs. Lund was employed. The wounded man was his father, Bob McCune, 80. He was shot four times, two of the bullets taking effect in the head and neck, and physicians expressed little hope for his recovery.

QUAKER CITY COLLECTS TEACHERS' BACK TAXES
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—(P)—Announcement was made today that all public school employees who owe back taxes will have the amount of that delinquency subtracted from their salaries.

Edward Merchant, business manager of the board of education, said that "teachers must remember that they have not had their salaries cut and that no one can expect to escape his burden in the reconstruction process."

LILIENTHAL TO MAKE HOME IN KNOXVILLE
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 1.—(P)—David E. Lilienthal, member of the Tennessee Valley Authority, announced today that he had decided to establish his home in Knoxville.

He said Mrs. Lilienthal and their two children are expected to arrive here this week from Madison, Wis., their former home.

The authority has offices at Muscle Shoals and is expected to open a branch office here in connection with the Cove Creek dam project.

ROOSEVELT OPPOSES SWIFT PRICE HIKES
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(P)—The recovery administration wants signers of the president's re-employment agreement to keep prices down to the lowest possible level consistent with increased costs, but does not expect to set any limit.

The intention here is for local campaign committees to keep an eye on NRA signers to prevent undue price-hiking, reporting flagrant cases to headquarters so that offenders may have the NRA insignia taken from them.

Mrs. McEachern Elected State Chairman of Women's Peace Group

Mrs. J. N. McEachern Sr., of 373 West Peachtree street, Atlanta, is to be the state chairman in Georgia of the national round-table discussions, which are organized by the national committee on the cause and cure of war to educate women on the subject of peace machinery, international pledges, treaties, etc., and to search for a "bolder and faster moving program for the abolition of war."

The announcement of the appointment of Mrs. J. N. McEachern Sr., as state chairman for Georgia in 1933-1934, was made today in New York by Miss Ruth Morgan, administrative chairman of the national committee on the cause and cure of war, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary chairman.

The national committee is made up of representatives of eleven national women's organizations, and represents more than 3,000,000 women workers for peace in this country. In mobilizing the opinion of this great group of women, the national committee has organized the national round-table discussions. The smallest unit of the round table is a local group of from 10 to 15 women. There are a minimum of 10 of these unit round tables in a state. Each of these unit round tables delegates a representative to the state round-table discussion.

The state round table group in turn sends an official delegate to go to the national conference on the cause and cure of war in Washington, which is held each year in January. This year the women's marathon discussions are studying the Manchurian situation, the World Economic Conference, the question whether the United States should assume membership in the League of Nations, war debts, the depression, unemployment and disarmament. A reading guide, drawn up by the national committee, supplements the discussions.

Visitors To Be Honored By Miss Burnett.

A trio of attractive visitors, including Miss Caroline Dalton, of High Point, N. C.; Miss Rena Travis, of Savannah, and Miss Sue Follitt, of Albany, will share honors at the luncheon to be given Thursday at the Piedmont Driving Club by Miss Martha Burnett. Miss Dalton and Miss Travis arrive today to visit Miss Burnett at her home on Peachtree road, and Miss Follitt is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Osborne, at her home on Club drive.

The guests will include a group of the young contingent. The entertainment is one of a series to be given during the coming week, complimenting the trio of attractive visitors.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2.

North Side Embroidery Club will meet at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. A. Tappan, 1101 Springdale road.

The Wistaria Garden Club meets at home of Mrs. L. V. Kennerly, 765 Woodland avenue, at 3 o'clock.

The Hills Park Garden Club meets with Mrs. F. R. Hamilton this afternoon.

Ass. Warren Candler Post, American Legion Auxiliary, meets this afternoon with Mrs. John Owens at her home on Sylvan drive at 2:30 o'clock.

Leadership training school for Camp Fire Girls' Guardians and prospective leaders meet at 10 o'clock at local headquarters at Davison-Paxon's store.

Atlanta alumnae of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority will meet at the home of Mrs. S. T. Jenkins, 1331 Greenleaf drive, N. E., at 3 o'clock.

Pi Gamma Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will meet at 7 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

For Miss Conley.

Among those honoring Miss Manora Conley, a bride-elect of August, was Miss Frances Bazemore, who entertained at a linen shower at her home on West Mercer avenue Thursday evening. Those present were: Misses Eleanor Jones, Frances Lawrence, Evelyn Northcutt, Carolyn Kilgore, Ruth Hull, Mae Jones, Nell Graf and Miss Conley.

Miss Bazemore was assisted in entertaining by her mother and sisters, Marie and Dorothy Bazemore.

TARZAN THE APE MAN No. 111

The pin-head savages herded their prisoners into canoes and shoved off. As the dwarfs paddled down the swift stream, drums began to be faintly heard in the distance. The white captives listened with growing alarm. Jean said: "The drums are getting louder."

Holt called to her: "We're getting nearer." "Near or what?" asked the girl. "The quarry, I guess," replied Holt, shrugging. Jean was silent, dreading the unknown fate awaiting them. Amid the jabbering of the savages they went rapidly down river, the drums growing constantly louder.

After the pin-heads had brutally thrown Chita, the monkey, back to shore, he ran along the bank and now swam out to the canoe in which Jean sat. Unmolested, she managed to pull him, dripping, to her side. There he huddled, whimpering and excited.

She tried to comfort him. "Poor little Chita," she said softly, stroking him, "you don't know what it's all about, do you? Tarzan could tell you—he'd know." The monkey looked up at her, suddenly quiet as she said: "Tarzan." She took it up and whispered: "Tarzan—Tarzan!"

BY JOHN P. BOAGHAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—(P)—Rushes

to buy grains today displayed stampedes to sell, and with purchase outlets here wholly insufficient whirled Winnipeg wheat prices up 9 cents a bushel.

Chicago quotations on all grains sped upward to the topmost limit permitted by new emergency rules, 5 cents for wheat, rye and barley, 4 cents for corn and 3 cents for oats.

Then the waves of purchase orders which would have been put through in Chicago dashed on to Winnipeg.

Sudden complete reversal of grain market sentiment was attributed mainly to action of Chicago Board of Trade directors last night in fixing a minimum below which quotations here could not go until August 15.

Wheat in Chicago closed strong at the day's top level, 3 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 4 cents up, oats 3 cents advanced, and provisions showing 50 cents gain.

Corn, oats and other grains duplicated what market action. The 1933 corn crop was officially put at 506,000,000 bushels below last year's harvest, with oats showing a drop of 23,000,000 bushels from a month ago. Provisions advanced the maximum with grains.

Consolidated Cigar Corporation reports for the six months ended June 30 net profit of $113,321 compared with $340,251 in the same period last year.

Is Laid To Severe Heat
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—
Brooklyn bridge caught fire tonight and firemen blamed the heat.
The blaze was confined to about 20 feet of asphaltum-treated planking in the center of the Brooklyn-bound vehicular lane. The fireboat Williamstrong steamed to a point directly below the fire and erupted a geyser of water, while two crews of land-going apparatus attacked it from the bridge level. Traffic was tied up half an hour in the affected lane. Spontaneous combustion was given as the cause of the fire.

OWEN SAYS ROAD FUND SHOULD BE RELEASED

Representative Wires Cumming Highway Board Set-Up "Entirely Legal."

GRiffin, Ga., Aug. 1.—(P)—Representative Emmet Owen, of the Fourth Georgia congressional district, has added his voice to the request that the government release $10,000,000 in federal highway funds to Georgia forthwith.

He sent a telegram to Attorney General Cummings, saying "the present set-up of the Georgia highway department is absolutely legal and funds will be wisely and economically spent."

Congressman Owen, who is an attorney, says he has made a detailed study of legal questions involved in the recent appointment of a new highway board by Governor Talmadge and has found no breach of the law.

The United States department of agriculture held up the fund after the governor ousted J. W. Barnett, chairman of the highway board, and Commissioner W. C. Vereen, following establishment of martial law.

Talmadge made a trip to Washington regarding payment of the money and was told by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that the question had been referred to Attorney General Cummings.

SIXTH DISTRICT PROJECTS OKAYED FOR $10,000,000

MACON, Ga., Aug. 1.—(P)—The Macdonald Telegraph today says Representative Carl Vinson has received assurance from Washington authorities that a new bridge across the Ocmulgee river here and a number of other bridge and road projects in the sixth congressional district will be included among those to be financed by $10,000,000 federal highway funds due Georgia.

Vinson said Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the federal bureau of public roads, told him the following projects in the sixth district would be in the program:

Bridge over the Ocmulgee at Macon, rebuilding of a bridge over the Ocmulgee river at Milledgeville, pavement of stretches of the Macon, Athens highway between Gray and Eatonton and Eatonton and Madison, paving links of the Macon-Dublin road and thence to Swainsboro, completion of paving between Devereaux and Warrenton, construction of a bridge over the Ocmulgee river at Ball's Ferry in Wilkinson county and extension of the paving between Macon and Columbus.

Paving between Devereaux and Warrenton and thence from the Columbus to Columbus would connect the United States Arsenal at Augusta with Fort Benning at Columbus. The war department has advocated those projects for some time.

Vinson has requested Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Attorney General Cummings to make the $10,000,000 available to Georgia forthwith. Payment has been held up during the dispute between Governor Talmadge and Chairman J. W. Barnett and Commissioner W. C. Vereen, of the highway board, who were ousted by the governor under a declaration of martial law.

SENATORS ASKED TO ACT IN NEWMAN RESOLUTIONS

NEWMAN, Ga., Aug. 1.—Resolutions urging Senators Walter F. George and Richard B. Russell Jr. to use their full influence to secure early payment of $10,000,000 Georgia's share of the highway money appropriated by congress for unemployment relief, were adopted at a meeting of the Association of County Commissioners of the Fourth Congressional District, held here Friday.

This fund has been held up at Washington because of a reported dispute as to whether Georgia has a legal constituted and competent highway commission, following the ousting of the old board and appointment of a new one by Governor Talmadge.

The resolutions voice a belief that there should exist a co-operative spirit between the state and its national government officials, so that the people of the state may promptly derive the benefit intended when these highway funds were voted.

MAJOR-GENERAL KING RETIRED FROM ARMY

Was Commandant of Benning Infantry School for Four Years.

FORT BENNING, Ga., Aug. 1.—Major General Campbell King, commandant of the infantry school, Fort Benning, Ga., for over four years, was Monday officially retired from active duty in the United States army, after more than 36 years' service in every grade in the military ranks, from private to major general of the line.

General King left Fort Benning on June 1, in compliance with a war department order which ordered him to his home and place of birth in Flat Rock, N. C., to await retirement at his own request.

He commanded the school for a longer period than any other officer, and achieved while there a higher grade than any other officer to be in charge of its activities. General King assumed command of Fort Benning on May 4, 1929, succeeding General Edward Collins, ordered to the Philippines, and the period until he left for his home, has seen the world's largest school of arms grow and expand into one of the greatest military educational institutions in the world. He added many new buildings, and high officials of the war department have many times had occasion to commend him for the manner in which his leadership has been accomplished.

General King entered the army as a private in the fifth cavalry in 1897, being promoted to corporal before he was commissioned a second lieutenant in July, 1898, and assigned to the first infantry. In 1899 he was ordered to Cuba, and from there went with the first to the Philippine islands, where he participated in numerous engagements on the island of Samar.

For his services in the World War General King was awarded the distinguished service cross, and in addition holds several foreign decorations, among which are the Officer of the Legion of Honor, and the Croix de Guerre with Palm and Silver Star (France), and Commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

His retirement from active duty was announced today, giving the shorter route to Glenview, Reidsville, Savannah and other neighboring cities. The bridge spans the Altamaha river.

Griffin News Appears With Pages Reversed

GRiffin, Ga., Aug. 1.—(P)—The Griffin Daily News, which a week ago announced it would "put the back page on the front page if the president said so" did just that today. All regular editions appeared with the pages reversed.

Of course the president had not ordered it printed that way but the News went on the blanket code of the president with today's issue and carried out its statement of a week ago just to prove how strongly it was backing the president.

CAMPBELL TO SEEK UNIFIED FARM PLAN

State Extension Head Meets Here Thursday With Wallace and Cobb.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 1.—(P)—A unified agricultural program for the southeast in general and Georgia in particular, taking into consideration the sudden removal of millions of acres from cotton production, will be sought at a cotton-control meeting in Atlanta August 3-5. Dr. J. Phil Campbell, Georgia extension director, said today.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Cully A. Cobb, in charge of the department of agriculture cotton production section, will discuss the place of cotton in such a farm plan for the south. Governor Talmadge is expected to introduce the secretary.

Taking 700,000 acres out of cotton production in Georgia necessarily calls for an adjustment in the state's agricultural program, Campbell said, and the same situation exists in each of the cotton states.

For that reason, he said, agricultural extension and experiment station directors from the southeastern states have been invited to meet in Atlanta with Georgia farmers, county farm and home agents, vocational teachers and other agricultural workers to plan a unified program.

The Georgia Bankers' Association and the Georgia Manufacturers' Association, Campbell said, will be represented at the meeting by their agricultural committees, to aid in developing a sterner live-at-home program for the cotton farmers.

Lightning Robs Woman Of Power of Speech

GASTONIA, N. C., Aug. 1.—(P)—Mrs. Lester Whitely, who yesterday had a firm, clear voice, today faced the prospect of never speaking again.

The woman was struck dumb by a bolt of lightning that hit in her yard, ran up a water pipe and leaped into the kitchen. Mrs. Whitely was knocked unconscious.

She was revived by a physician but could not talk. The doctor said he doubted that she ever would speak again.
